Maj. Gen. Sanjeev Dogra (Retd.), a highly distinguished veteran of the Indian Army, brings more than three decades of exemplary leadership and operational excellence to his role as Director and Co-Founder of Sigra Samyak Global Private Limited. His career in the armed forces is marked by strategic foresight, organisational stewardship, and an unwavering commitment to national service. These attributes now form the foundation of his contribution to the company's evolution as a premier consulting and capability-building organisation. General Dogra's leadership philosophy synthesises the precision, discipline, and resilience of military practice with contemporary principles of organisational strategy and corporate governance. His ability to translate high-stakes military experience into corporate relevance distinguishes him as an authoritative voice in strategic leadership and crisis management.

Dr. Saumya Singh—holding an MSc, MBA, and PhD in Management—serves as the Co-Founder and Promoter of Sigra Samyak Global Private Limited, a Delhi-based consulting organisation established in 2025. Under her strategic stewardship, the firm has articulated a clear mission centred on organisational development, capability building, and evidence-based corporate training. Over the years, she has designed and executed corporate training programmes that have demonstrably improved organisational performance indicators, strengthened managerial competencies, and enabled behavioural transformation across functional teams. She has contributed to scholarly discourse through research publications and conference presentations on management practices, workplace dynamics, and organisational behaviour, thereby enriching both academic and professional communities.
